

The Society of Indiana Pioneers
AN INTERGENERATIONAL DAY

Exploring natural history, Native American history, “birds of prey,”
White River history and more.

Special appeal to children, grandchildren of Pioneers

Wednesday June 29, 2022 from 10 am to 3 pm

Price: $25 if RSVP before April 1; $30 if before May 1 deadline

(Includes presentation costs, box lunch & donation to site)

Participants must provide own transportation to:

STRAWTOWN KOTEEWI PARK / TAYLOR CENTER OF NATURAL HISTORY

Maximum participants: 35

Join us for a brand new event, a rain-or-shine day designed to captivate young generations of Pioneers (children and grandchildren of members), although all ages are welcome.

Arrive by 10 am at the Taylor Center for Natural History at Strawtown Koteewi Park north of Noblesville:

Taylor Center of Natural History: 12308 Strawtown Avenue, Noblesville, IN 46060

The eventful, interactive day will include:

- A presentation by an expert on Indiana’s birds of prey, accompanied by native birds, probably including a hawk, a falcon and an owl.
- Tours of recreations of Native American structures at Koteewi, where the 780 acres were inhabited long before our Pioneer ancestors arrived.
- A nature hike at the scenic park, which is on the banks of the White River.
- A visit by a costumed, historic re-enactor portraying a fur trader in early Indiana.
- Interactive presentations about compelling artifacts at the natural history center.
- Gardens of medicinal plants, a box lunch from an Indy-area restaurant and more.
